Headteacher's Notes

Dear parents and carers,

There is plenty of news to share this week but, before I do, I would like to take the opportunity to say thank you to the parents who came in on Monday to help with our new library labelling – we wouldn't have got through so much without you. A thank you must also go to Mr Edwards who is joining our school on a voluntary basis to help make sure we are getting the most out of our library.

Our library wasn't the only place that was a hive of activity. Just next door in our school hall, we were also having our hall lighting replaced. The new LED lighting is a huge improvement and makes the hall feel much brighter.

This week also saw our first 'Parents to School' week of the year. It has been great to see so many parents visiting classes and taking part in lessons ranging from PE to PSHE. We look forward to seeing you again next half-term.

Last week, I promised to announce the funds raised by our MacMillan Coffee Morning. I am pleased to announce that, thanks to your support, we raised £211.80.

Next week, we will be supporting the #HelloYellow Young Minds campaign to raise awareness of World Mental Health Day. As we have previously written, we would appreciate it if everyone could wear something yellow next Thursday. We will not be collecting donations but will be happy to direct you to any mental health charities if you so wish.

As always, have a great weekend.

Mr Spruce
