Headteacher's Notes

Dear parents and carers,

Happy Friday and happy end of half term – I cannot believe we are exactly halfway through February; time truly does fly.

This week has been very busy with our usual learning but with some exciting added extras.

On Tuesday, children from Year 3 and 4 visited Sutton Academy to take part in an exciting indoor sports athletic event. Each pupil competed in two track events and two field events, showcasing their skills and determination. Throughout the day, they embodied all of Robins Lane's values and trying their best. Thank you to Mr Lownsbrough for organising and to the staff who accompanied the children to keep them safe and happy.

Year 5 were on stage on Thursday afternoon when they presented their musical theatre production for parents and carers. The theme was Anglo Saxons and the children shared songs, dances, poems, drama and information about this critical time in British history. As ever, I was amazed to see that children had learned complex lines off by heart and supported each other to be confident. Thank you to our wonderful families who were a great audience and to Miss Moremon and the team for making the production happen.

Last night, I was invited to Sutton Academy to watch their annual dance show. Razzle Dazzle was a celebration of the students' studies and I watched, in awe, as students from Year 7 through to Year 12 took to the stage. As part of this show, Robins Lane's dance club children performed – this group included children from Year 3 to Year 6. They were quite simply amazing. I admire their confidence, talent and bravery. Thank you to the Sutton Academy for their tuition and for putting on an incredible event.

Last week, I told you all about our new beach huts. We were absolutely delighted to be contacted by one of our parents, Paul Bannister, who has kindly donated the paint and equipment needed to decorate our huts. This hugely generous gesture has saved us a fortune and we cannot wait until the weather improves so we can get them painted. We are so lucky to have such kind, generous families – thank you Mr Bannister.

Before I sign off for half term I would like to share some joyous news. Miss Middlehurst, our deputy headteacher, is expecting a baby! Her baby girl is due in late April. This is Miss Middlehurst's first baby and we are all over the moon to hear this news. Congratulations Miss Middlehurst!

Have a wonderful half term break. Stay safe and happy. I look forward to hearing all the children's tales when we return on Monday 24th February.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs Tomkow
